A FEW IMPORTANT FACTS

IN REGARD TO

THE "SOUTHERN HEPATIC PILLS."

1. THEY ARE PREPARED FROM THE BEST quality of Medicine by the discoverer, now an aged Minister of the Gospel, and are safe.

2. They have been known for years and tested by thousands.

3. Five hundred persons are known to have been cured by them.

4. They are not recommended by the proprietor for everything, but only for diseases which arise from disordered livers.

5. Directions and certificates accompany each box and these certificates are from well known and most respectable individuals.

6. Correspondents recommend them as good for Liver Disease, Chills and Fevers, Pneumonia, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Bilious Fevers, Bilious Rheumatism, Worms, Pluriesy, Bronchitis, &c.

7. Several gentlemen state that the use of these Pills has been to them an annual saving of from $100 to $200; they are the best plantation medicine ever offered to the public.

8. Some Physicians of the highest standing prescribe them to their patients, and hundreds of boxes have been sold to regular practitioners.

9. During the last quarter 2,200 boxes have been sold by Druggist, one in South Carolina, and one in North Carolina—and some time ago over 2,700 boxes were ordered by Druggists in one town in Virginia.

☞ Price, $3 a box. For $30 a dozen boxes will be sent to any address. A very liberal discount to Druggists and country merchants. Cash (new currency) to accompany orders.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

Tuesday, Dec. 20, 1864.

The House was called to order at 10 o'clock, A. M.

Journal of yesterday was read and approved.

Leaves of absence were granted to Messrs. Austin, Cobb, Merrill, Governor of Sumter and Moore.

Mr. Lewis, from the Committee on Claims, reported back the petition of Mrs. Mary Ann Hall, widow of Wm. Hall, of the Senate, with a bill for her relief.

Mr. Lewis introduced a bill for the relief of Rufus A. Mayberry, late Sheriff of Rich county.

Mr. Fowle, from the Committee on Propositions and Grievances, reported a resolution of the General Assembly to the same effect as that passed yesterday by the Committee of the House of Commons.

The House, as in Committee of the Whole, proceeded to consider the bill to amend the ordinance of Secession, together with the resolution of Mr. Fowle.

Messrs. Fowle and Graham offered the Ground of Report of the Bill.

Messrs. Turner and Graham opposed its passage. The bill was then rejected by the following vote, to wit:

A bill to secure the State Salt Works from interruption passed its second reading, Ayes 54, nays 42.

The House then adjourned until to-morrow morning, 10 o'clock.

DAILY [illegible]

[illegible]

We think that the people of this Confederacy likewise will appreciate the Peace Resolutions of Mr. Turner which they have just overwhelmingly and extraordinarily endorsed by an overpowering vote. He offers the resolutions, not that they think that they will accomplish any end, but to allay excitement and dissatisfaction in North Carolina. Thank you, Mr. Turner! Not until he went home would. No, sir! All right in the Senate is not especially and particularly right, in Rebel Congress, but it will serve to silence the bellowers. Mr. Turner on the eve to set in their sovereign capacity to building up. The people here, come to the conclusion that the "President and Secretary will never be able to make peace in the 'constitutional way,' and hence they demand that this Union be dissolved through their ultimatum of secession. And we tell Mr. Turner, Mr. Davis, with all others, that the time is coming when they will be heard.

One thing is certain. And that is that if Mr. Lincoln was the most anti when before the people for election that he is now, and held the same views relative to peace, those by whom he was accepted as fair in Congress the [illegible]

We quote from the proceedings of Friday:

[illegible]

Mr. Turner, of North Carolina, moved a suspension of the rules, introduced the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the President of the Confederate States be and he is hereby requested to appoint commissioners, consisting each of [illegible] of Congress, whose duty it shall be to confer with [illegible] of the United States a conference for the obtaining of honorable peace; and, failing in this, the commissioners are requested to use all proper efforts to obtain an immediate exchange of prisoners; and, if possible, to have such understanding with the enemy regarding the future conduct of the war as may tend to ameliorate its horrors and atrocities.

Mr. Turner said that while he had no idea that the United States Government would [illegible] the proposition for negotiation, nothing to lessen, still he wished the Confederate Government to take the initiative in the matter, because it would unite the people in the country who are now [illegible] and weak hearted because of the continuance of the war and the almost hopelessness of its termination. Let us offer the enemy an open negotiation of peace, and then it is seen that Lincoln rejects our overtures for peace, those who are now lukewarm and disheartened in the prosecution of our cause will go more heartily into the struggle. [illegible] of a righteous peace. He was opposed to [illegible] on the subject, and thought that all suggestions, with the view of obtaining peace, should be carried through [illegible] channel. That is, the President, by and with the advice of the Senate.

Mr. Turner said that it appeared that the people do not understand the position of North Carolina, and it therefore seemed strange and inexplicable to them that a State which has poured out its best blood like water upon every battle field of the war should oppose the Government of the Confederate States. It was not for the purpose of [illegible] that North Carolina [illegible] but the manner in which it is [illegible]

Mr. Turner proceeded to speak of the character of the present war between the North and South, comparing it to that waged by the Carthaginians against young Rome, and their two great leaders, Hannibal and Lucy to Hannibal and Scipio Africanus. Hannibal was a bold and enterprising man like Napoleon, and Lee is [illegible] Mr. Turner [illegible] If ever Southern prowess signalled [illegible] this would be one [illegible] will give [illegible] next Spring.

Mr. [illegible] to the resolutions as a rebuke [illegible] those uttered by Mr. Turner, of North Carolina.

Mr. [illegible] The people of the Confederate States [illegible] by the acts of the people of the non-slaveholding States to dissolve their connection with those States, and to form a new compact in order to preserve their liberties; and whereas efforts made by the Government of the United States immediately upon the [illegible] and whereas [illegible] and whereas [illegible] and whereas
